Helping Hands

As we stood enthralled to see river Chithravathi flow in all her glory, nature went ahead and unleashed its strength wrecking the daily life and the usual festivity that comes with Sathya SaiBaba Jayanti Mahotsavam. The river overflowed its banks and immersed the residential areas. All lakes around the village are bringing over the edges and flooding roads and homes. People are being evacuated from the submerged homes and localities. The SSS Central Trust, Police personnel and the community are providing safety food and shelter. Many of our student's houses have been flooded with water. And yet, we stand strong. With the Divine grace and Puttaparthi unformidable unity, we shall overcome this. Call on your friends, relatives or anyone you know. Check on their welfare and lend them help in any small ways you can. Stay Safe. Stay Strong. Sankranti Festival Celebrations

As the Sun begins its journey into the Northern hemisphere this day, may it bring you good health, happiness and prosperity. Popular as a harvest festival in India, Sankranti is thanksgiving to the Sun by farmers for blessing them with a bountiful harvest. Called by different names, celebrated in various ways, these 3 days of celebrations unite everyone, irrespective of age. It is another year of subdued celebrations. But the fact we are here is proof of human resilience and hope. Enjoy this day with some Chakra Pongal, colourful Rangolis and the presence of your dear ones.

As India completes 74 years of Independence, this year we are fighting yet another war against Co-Vid 19. We have forged through hardships and calamities, may we win over this as we stand united.

“We were all children once. We all share the desire for the wellbeing of our children, which has always been and will continue to be the most universally cherished aspiration of humankind.”
14th November – a day marking childhood. This day as we know marks the birthday of Pandit Nehru and his love for children.

The students and Management endeavoured to make this Children’s Day special and memorable for the underprivileged students of nearby primary school. Guided by the spirit of the saying “We can’t help everyone, but everyone can help someone” We made a humble effort and distributed education facilitating packets consisting copies, writing materials and snacks to the school going primary students.
